Bear joins koala hunt in Oz fires

A DOG named Bear has been helping to save injured koalas following devastating bushfires in Australia. Wearing socks to protect his paws, he is sent into safe burnt-out areas to sniff out koala shit and fur.

When he smells a koala, he sits very still to alert his handler that an animal is nearby.

Bear is a rescue dog, given up by his former owners as he was not well suited to life as a pet because he was intelligent and highly energetic.

He now works as a koala detection dog with his handler, Rianna, and the pair joined a search and rescue effort in the Northern Rivers region of New South Wales.

The teams searched a protected area which has been devastated by fires in the past month.

Wildlife campaigner, Josey Sharrad, said: "Now, more than ever, saving individual koalas is critical."

EasyJet vows carbon offset

EASYJET has said it is going to become the first airline in the world to operate net-zero carbon flights through offsetting emissions made by its planes by, among other things, planting trees.

The budget airline said it would invest around £25m over the next year in activities including "forestry, renewable and community based projects".

EasyJet promised to support the development of hybrid and electric planes and help "reinvent and de-carbonise aviation over the long-term".

TRUMP IN SECRET DASH TO HOSPITAL

'This was NOT routine' says insider

DONALD Trump was rushed to hospital for a secret visit that was kept OFF his official schedule - leading to speculation the US President is either stark raving MAD or he's about to DIE!

White House officials, however, said Trump was just getting a head start on his annual medical when he visited the Walter Reed National Military Medical Centre at the weekend.

But Washington insiders say the truth is likely to be more sinister. Joe Lockhart, a press secretary under president Bill Clinton said:

"The one thing you can be sure of is this was not routine and he did not go there for half his physical."

"What does it mean? It means that we just won't know what the medical issue was."

Trump's medical appointment was not listed on his Saturday public schedule, and his last medical was only nine months ago.

Press secretary Stephanie Grisham said Trump, 73, was "anticipating a very busy 2020" and wanted to take advantage of "a free weekend" in Washington to begin portions of his check-up.

Rahm Emanuel, a former Clinton aide and Chicago mayor, added: "The real Donald Trump is getting exposed for what he's done, and that's what's driving him to the doctor."

ELECTION 2019

BORIS Johnson has vowed to "come down hard" on the "scourge" of knife crime if the Tories win a majority at the General Election, including a pledge to immediately arrest and promptly charge anyone caught unlawfully with a blade.

The Prime Minister (above) said the Conservatives would give the police powers to "act decisively and effectively" to prevent crime.

In the year to June, knife crime hit a record level in England and Wales, with police recording 44,076 offences involving a knife or sharp instrument.

Under the proposals, anyone caught unlawfully with a knife would be arrested immediately, charged within 24 hours and appear in court within a week - which the Tories say would be three times faster than the current average.

JOHN McDonnell has said workers and consumers would "take back control" under a new business model if Labour wins the election.

The Shadow Chancellor (above) said company boards would include workers and elected members, giving them greater influence over pay structure.

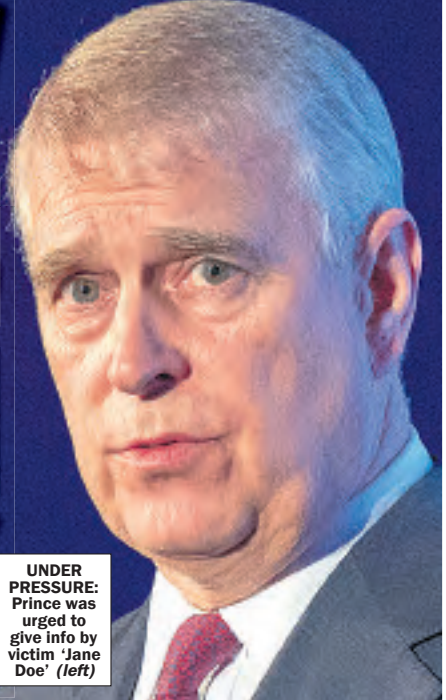

And public sector chief executives would not be allowed to earn more than 20 times someone on the living wage.

That would mean a maximum salary of about £350,000.

The plans were part of an overall vision to create a business model that was not based on the "unfettered pursuit of profit maximisation".

He said: "Labour's reforms to how our large businesses and public utilities are governed, owned and regulated, and how both workers and consumers are represented, will genuinely enable them to take back control."

ANDREW 'AGREES TO FBI QUIZ'

UNDER PRESSURE: Prince was urged to give info by victim 'Jane Doe' (left)

Duke will talk to Feds after Palace deal

PRINCE Andrew is ready to talk to the FBI about his convicted sex offender pal Jeffrey Epstein - and a meeting with agents would take place "within days" after negotiations with Palace officials.

The apparent shift comes just days after the Duke of York made a massive PR blunder by giving a mealy-mouthed interview with the BBC's Emily Maitlis.

His appearance on Newsnight to explain his friendship with the convicted sex offender and deny allegations of having sex with an under-age teenager was widely condemned, but the duke is said to be standing by his decision to put his side of the story.

The head-to-head was supposed to draw a line under allegations that the Prince had romped with late nonce Epstein's sex slave Virginia Giuffre.

But the interview only fuelled the fire and yesterday, with charities and financial backers distancing themselves from Andrew, it appeared the Queen's second son has decided to give a statement to the Feds.

It's believed Special Agents from FBI HQ in Washington DC will fly in to question the Duke.

Andrew's move came a day after another of Epstein's victims appealed directly to the Duke of York to give a statement about the convicted sex offender.

The woman, only identified as Jane Doe 15, urged Andrew to speak to the US authorities during a press conference in Los Angeles, where lawyer Gloria Allred announced her client had filed a civil lawsuit against the disgraced financier's estate.

The 31-year-old said: "I agree with Gloria that Prince Andrew, and any others that are close to Epstein, should come forward and give a statement under oath on what information they have."

ASSANGE RAPE PROBE DROPPED

PROSECUTORS in Sweden have dropped an investigation into a rape allegation made against WikiLeaks co-founder Julian Assange in 2010.

Assange (left), who denies the accusation, has avoided extradition to Sweden for seven years after seeking refuge at the Ecuadorean embassy in London in 2012.

The 48-year-old Australian was evicted in April and sentenced to 50 weeks' jail for breaching his bail conditions.

He is currently being held at Belmarsh prison in London.

The Swedish probe had been shelved in 2017 but was re-opened earlier this year following his eviction from the embassy.

In June, the then UK Home Secretary, Sajid Javed, formally approved an extradition request from the U.S. where Assange is wanted on 18 counts related to the mass leak of American secrets.

Deputy Director of Public Prosecution Eva-Marie Persson took the decision to "discontinue the investigation regarding Julian Assange", the Swedish Prosecution Authority said.

"The reason for this is that the evidence has weakened considerably due to the long period of time that has elapsed since the events."

TV bosses 'very excited' over Arcuri signing up

THE Yank businesswoman at the centre of a misconduct controversy involving Boris Johnson is being lined up for the Loose Women panel, we can EXCLUSIVELY reveal.

Jennifer Arcuri allegedly received favourable treatment during the Prime Minister's time as mayor of London due to their 'friendship' – claims he denies.

Ms Arcuri impressed Loose Women bosses when she appeared on screens earlier this week to give her side of the story and now they want her to join Janet Street-Porter, Denise Welch, Gloria Hunniford and others as a guest panellist on the harpy show.

An ITV insider said: "Jennifer is opinionated and sassy and is in the public eye."

"She's just the sort of woman we'd like to bitch and cluck on Loose Women."

By SUZIE SHELDON news@sundaysport.co.uk

YESTERDAY was a special day for anyone who enjoys wasting their hard-earned money on impossible pipe dreams...

The National Lottery – a state sponsored way to gamble away your benefits – marked 25 years of dangling the carrot of instant riches in front of the poor and vulnerable.

In the quarter century that the Lottery has been running, problem gambling in Britain has reached epidemic proportions – but of course that's nothing to do with the Government effectively saying: "Gambling's good!"

But it's not all grim news.

Out of the millions who have played since 1994, more than 5,500 millionaires have been created through its games and more than £40billion has been raised for good causes across the arts, heritage, sport, and community sectors.

To mark the occasion, National Lottery funded projects and attractions are offering free entry or special offers at hundreds of venues from November 23 to December 1.

To be honest, though, the most we've ever got out of the Lottery is leering over the various lady presenters of the draw show.

As our kind-of Bonus Ball to you, here they are teats-out!

Is being a coalman REALLY better than this, Mikey?

LOTTO lout Mikey Carroll is now a skint coalman who works seven days a week – but swears he's "happier now" after blowing his £9.7million winnings.

Mikey, 36, bagged the money in 2002 after buying a £1 ticket when he was aged just 19 and working as a binman in Norfolk.

After a mind-blowing 10 years, he says he has no regrets and is glad he has his life back.

Michael, who now lives in Moray, in northern Scotland, said: "It didn't go wrong – it was the best 10 years of my life for a pound."

"I don't look back with any regrets that's for sure."

"It was 10 years of fun for a pound, you can't go wrong with that. I wouldn't want to turn the clock back."

"But I live a good, free lifestyle now and I'm happier because I've got my life back."

And with fame and fortune came a new job as Sunday Sport columnist – which led to a racy photo shoot with Sport stunnas Vicki Thomas and Emily Stupple.

A pal said: "Michael had some great times with the fame and fortune and the shoot with your babes had to be a high point."

Strictly Shirley: I'm getting lots of online abuse

SHIRLEY Ballas has revealed she has been subjected to more online bullying during the current series of Strictly Come Dancing than in previous years.

The ballroom dancer (above) took over from head judge Len Goodman on the BBC One series in 2017.

And Ballas, 59, told BBC Breakfast: "I've had more online bullying this time than I've had in any series of Strictly – particularly direct messaging, more so from the younger fans if their chosen one gets sent away."

"It's 'I hate you, die, go kill yourself' – those types of messages in my direct message box."

"It's so personal. It's about your body, it's about your face, it's so many things."

"My concern is not so much for myself, it's for the younger people out there."

"If they do that kind of bullying online, what do they do in the workplace, what do they do at the school?"

"So my concern is always for the younger generation."

Mum and kids at home during £1m home jewel heist

JEWELLERY worth more than £1million has been stolen from a mansion in north London.

A woman in her thirties and her children were inside the Hampstead Lane property when the burglars forced entry by scaling the wall of the property on November 14.

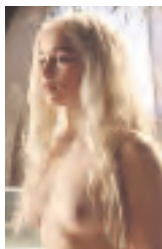

Police said an unknown number of suspects broke in and made off via a first-floor window with various items including jewellery, designer clothing and a substantial amount of cash.

The Metropolitan Police released images of some of the stolen items, which are of "huge sentimental" value to the victim.

They include earrings, rings and a necklace.

A police spokesman said: "Many of these are very distinctive and rare, including the necklace, ring and earrings."

GoT Emilia: I refused to strip naked

GAME of Thrones star Emilia Clarke says she once refused to perform a nude scene – despite being told it would “disappoint” her fans.

The 33-year-old (above) said: “I’ve had fights on set before where I’m like, ‘No, the sheet stays up’, and they’re like, ‘You don’t wanna disappoint your Thrones fans’. And I’m like, ‘F**k you!’”

She also revealed how she felt overwhelmed by what she described as the “f**k ton of nudity” in the first season of the hit fantasy drama.

Emilia, star of the new seasonal rom-com Last Christmas, added: “I’m floating through this first season and I have no idea what I’m doing. I’ve never been on a film set before, and I’m now completely naked with all of these people around me.”

“Whatever I’m feeling is wrong – I’m gonna cry in the bathroom and then come back and we’re gonna do the scene and it’s gonna be completely fine.”

Prison earbuds give violent lags good night’s kip

PRISONERS have been handed EARPLUGS to help stop early morning fights breaking out between cell neighbours over loud snoring and blaring TVs.

A report out into HMP Buckley Hall, a 450-capacity training prison near Rochdale, Lancs, last week revealed how there had been an investigation into why fights broke out when inmates were released from cells in the morning.

Many fights kicked off over “disturbed sleep patterns” due to noise from “adjacent cells” – and that due to “very thin walls” lags in nearby cells were often kept awake.

Prison chiefs decided to issue “earbuds” to help lags get a good night’s sleep – and the number of violent incidents has halved in the past year.

TRAGIC GRACE ‘LOVED BEING CHOKED DURING ROUGH SEX’ Ex tells of kinky Fifty Shades romps

KINKY: Grace belonged to two bondage dating sites including Whiplr (above and below)

BRIT backpacker Grace Millane belonged to BDSM dating sites, liked to be choked and was turned on by rough sex, a court heard yesterday

Grace, 22, was killed during a sex session with a man she’d met on dating app Tinder while on holiday in New Zealand, it is claimed.

He says she died during a sex game gone wrong but is on trial for her murder.

As the start of his defence at his trial in Auckland the jury heard details of Grace’s sexual tastes, including a statement from an ex-partner, who has not been named, which revealed she enjoyed Fifty Shades-style kinky sex.

By ROY DURRIDGE news@sundaysport.co.uk

He said he and the university graduate from Essex used a system of safe words and signals to make sure she was never in danger during their BDSM sessions.

The statement was read to the jury at the trial of a 27-year-old New Zealand man accused of strangling Grace to death during a Tinder date.

The defendant, who also cannot be named, claims Grace died accidentally during consensual sex at his flat in Auckland last December, and insists she asked him to put his hands on her neck during intercourse.

The trial also heard statements from police that they had traced messages sent from Grace on two BDSM dating sites, called Whiplr and FetLife.

Grace had been active on the site just an hour before meeting the defendant, according to data retrieved from Whiplr.

In his statement, the former partner said he and Grace researched how to practice choking safely.

He told police: “Grace and I discussed keeping hands wide and on the side of the neck, never on the front.”

Tapping

“Grace and I would have a safe word most of the time which we had discussed, like ‘turtle’ or something ridiculous. We used a tapping practice too. If Grace tapped me three times then it would stop.”

“Grace would tap out maybe one in four times. I trusted that anytime it was too much for Grace she would do this.”

“Grace and I were careful to discuss not only the physical but the psychological aspects to practicing BDSM.”

The jury was also read a statement from one of Grace’s friends, who said she “enjoyed her partner to put his hands around her neck”.

She told cops: “I can’t really remember the exact words used but it was something like that, said in a jokey way as we talked about sex with our partners.”

“Grace referred to enjoying a bit of rough sex sometimes when you’re having one of those nights when you’re really, really attracted to one another or when you were particularly turned-on.”

“I had the impression that it was normally regular sex but maybe rougher when she was more turned-on.”

Defence barrister Ron Mansfield told the jury: “The fact that we need to discuss with you what she liked to do in the bedroom should have no impact on her reputation at all.”

But, he added: “It’s important we are fully informed. If this couple engaged in consensual sexual activity which included pressure being applied to her neck with her consent and that went wrong, that is not murder.”

“Death through this mechanism may be thankfully rare but it does happen and sadly it happened here.”

The trial continues.

Perv spotted by student is fined for street w*nk

A PERV whipped his cock out in front of a shocked female student who took a pic of him furiously wanking.

Jonathon Musgrove, 27 (above), was spotted tugging off in the driver's seat of his car in St John's, Wores.

The witness was walking along the same road on October 10 during evening rush hour when she saw a male in the driver's side of a car with his penis exposed.

She looked in the car window again and described how the man put his arms up to shoulder height in an "I'm innocent" pose.

Prosecutor Nichola Ritchie said: "She took a picture of him as she walked away and then reported it to police."

"It shocked her."

Musgrove, of Worcester, admitted outraging public decency and was handed an 18-month community order, told to pay £210 in fines, and must complete 120 hours of unpaid work.

MODEL TELLS COURT SNAPPA SUGGESTED SEX ON CAMERA

news@sundaysport.co.uk

The woman hoped to launch a career as a fashion model but says Paul Brown claimed she could make money out of nude work.

She said she became increasingly uncomfortable as he asked her to pose topless and then naked and then came closer and closer to her.

She had been directed to Brown – who used the working name of Paul D Smart – after contacting an agency called Model South West.

The prosecution at Exeter Crown Court say Brown set up the agency as a pretence designed to lure women to his studio so he could trick them into posing nude or having sex with him.

Urging

A former professional model said in the spring of 2015 the agency asked her to attend a test shoot at Smart's studio on an industrial estate in Okehampton.

She posed in white underwear and said Smart then appeared to have a phone call with the agency about her which led to him urging her to pose topless.

She said: "He was saying how I could make more money if I went topless and did glamour."

"It was becoming more sexual. He was quite close to me.

“He was talking about me doing a sexual thing

"I think he did some photos of me naked on a chaise-longue. I can't remember if I had underwear or panties. He asked me to touch my genitals and I was really scared then."

Brown, 41, denies a total of 28 offences against 15 different women, including 18 rapes against seven women, four of sexual assault, and six of voyeurism.

She struggled to see as they wrapped around her head in the terrifying Face Your Fears trial.

Snakes could be seen covering Caitlyn's mouth as she was tested again following an earlier ordeal with cockroaches.

The Keeping Up With The Kardashians star looked alarmed, but her screams were muffled by the helmet and snakes mounting her face.

Ex-Olympian Caitlyn was also forced to put her hands in a snake-filled box in a bid to win yellow stars and feed her camp. ## Launch sheds 1m viewers

THE launch of I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! shed a million viewers compared to the first episode of 2018, as Ant McPartlin made his return.

Ten million tuned in on Sunday to see Ant reunite with co-host Declan Donnelly and stars including Caitlyn Jenner, Ian Wright and Kate Garraway enter the jungle.

The launch, which was broadcast over an

Last year's launch show drew an average of 11m viewers as Holly Willoughby (left) joined Dec for hosting duties in Australia.

The This Morning host, who filled in while Ant stepped back from his TV roles after a drink-driving arrest, helped the show to its most-watched launch since 2013.

Kylie was still still a teenager when she launched the business in 2015 as a line of lip kits.

According to Coty, which also owns brands including Max Factor, Rimmel and Clairol, the deal will see Kylie (above) "lead all creative efforts in terms of product and communications initiatives".

Coty cited her more than 270 million social media followers across her personal and business accounts, saying she is "one of the most influential voices among beauty consumers globally".

Before she died, Mrs Bran told a friend and paramedics that her husband had "flipped" and attacked her with the fryer because she had been "nagging him" inside the Chipoteria chip shop in the rural village of Hermon, Carmarthenshire.

But a jury found Mr Bran not guilty of murder or manslaughter following a week-long trial at Swansea Crown Court, before judge Paul Thomas QC released him.

A GROUP of student vets have been forced to change their fundraising nude calendar after militant bunny-huggers claimed they were showing "disrespect" to sheep in one picture.

The image shows the male students at the Royal Veterinary College in London with no clothes on and sheep covering their private parts.

The sheep are "tipped" – meaning they are sitting on their rear and being held up with their front legs.

Abused

A tiny fringe vegan group called the Veterinary Vegan Network claimed the pose was "disrespecting" the sheep and they were performing an unnecessary procedure.

Some of the students have been harassed and abused online since the incident – although there is no suggestion the VVN are behind such actions.

But rather than tell the protesting nut-munchers to take a hike, the vets have removed the 'offending' picture from the calendar.

The RVC published an open letter following the bizarre row, saying: "We have taken action to explain to our students why this behaviour is inappropriate and have asked them to remove the calendar and its photographs from distribution with immediate effect."

The RVC students' union hit back, alleging that senior management had 'failed in their duty of care' to students 'as their statement has given credence to the negative response from a minority group online who now feel emboldened to target individual students with personal threats'.

Self-employed wage call

A NATIONAL minimum wage should be introduced for self-employed workers as a "crucial step" towards improving their financial security, a report by a lefty think tank has urged.

Demos said the move would provide a legal obligation on firms to pay their contractors a minimum rate, arguing it should be higher than the regular national minimum wage to cover the risk self-employed workers are bearing as a result of their financial insecurity.

Trust boost for beavers

GOOD news fellas – there's more BEAVER out there!

The National Trust is releasing beavers into large enclosures at two sites in the south of England in the spring to boost wildlife and help combat flooding.

The schemes, which have been given the go-ahead by Government conservation agency Natural England, will see two pairs of the aquatic mammals each released into a separate enclosure at Holnicote, Somerset.

A third pair will be released into a fenced enclosure at Valewood, on the edge of the South Downs in West Sussex.

Beavers were once native in Britain but were hunted to extinction in the 16th century, though they have made a return to the wild in some parts of the country.

MY SEX LIFE IS AS BLUE AS MY HAIR

Colour switch has got Katie bonking again

A CARE assistant has revealed how she ended a three-year sex drought with her husband – by dying her hair blue.

Katie Say, 31, said the change of hair colour to bright blue gave her a surge of confidence – and the courage to cheat on her husband.

She started dating online and bedded a string of sexy fellas.

And soon she was craving sex so much that she ended up swinging.

Katie said: "I was literally dying for sex. I hadn't done it with my husband for three years and I knew I needed to kick-start my life."

"So I dyed my brown hair bright blue and posted my profile on the cheaters' dating site IllicitEncounters.com."

Exciting

"In no time, I had lots of fellas on to me gagging for sex. It gave me a taste of what I was missing and I quickly had three affairs with nice blokes local to me."

"They really brought out the kinky side in me and I started visiting swingers clubs with one of the guys."

"I loved watching other couples getting it on and I filled my boots too."

"There is no doubt that the change in my fortunes was all down to my hair colour."

"My sex life ended up being bluer than my hair!"

Katie was only 19 when she started dating her husband, who is

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

20 years older than her. Things were exciting at first, but in the last few years the sex had ground to a halt.

Now she has regained her love of sex, she is divorcing her husband.

She explained: "After three years without any passion, I realised that there was something missing from my life and I could not put up with it any longer."

Katie, from Barton-upon-Humber, Lincs, decided to enrol with IllicitEncounters.com because she was married at the time and wanted to meet a man who was also attached and in a similar situation to her own.

She had tried Tinder but found it didn't suit her – 'because all the men were interested in was sex' – and she wanted a date who would wine and dine her and treat her like a lady.

She said: "Affair number one was with an Asian man in his forties from Leeds."

"We chatted and there seemed to be a spark, so we agreed to meet at a hotel."

"We had sex three times, it was amazing. I could not feel my legs by the end of day!"

"He was an incredible lover and we have met several times since and the sex has always been great."

"Affair number two was with a mature university student from Bradford in his late thirties and married with three children."

Kinky

"He wasn't as good a lover as the Asian man but the sex was still very good. I have a high sex drive."

"Affair number three was with a man who had recently split with his wife because he had been cheating."

"He had a high sex drive and he really brought out my kinky side."

Rejuvenated Katie added: "I like dating on extra-marital sites such as IllicitEncounters.com."

"Married men tend to be a little more gentlemanly and know how to treat a woman."

ROCKER'S JOHN LEWIS SHOCKER

REO Speedwagon star Kevin Cronin admitted he had never heard of John Lewis before a cover of his hit Can't Fight This Feeling was featured in the department store's Christmas advert.

The American rock band's lead vocalist (right) said: "I can't say that I did and I've spent some time over in the UK, we have toured there a number of times."

Cronin, 68, added: "This year was the first time the John Lewis advert was brought to my attention and the amount of anticipation and excitement that is generated by this annual Christmas advert is pretty remarkable."

Bastille singer Dan Smith recorded a cover of REO Speedwagon's hit for this year's festive John Lewis campaign featuring Excitable Edgar the little dragon.

Martial Arts Miss had sex with boy, 14

A TAEKWONDO instructor has been jailed after admitting having sex with a boy aged 14.

Kasea Cirincione (above) was handed a sentence of one year in jail plus five years of probation for unlawful oral sex and sexual penetration involving a minor.

Cirincione, 22 when the charges were filed against her in May, had worked as an instructor at Family Taekwondo Plus, a martial arts school owned by her parents, Kateena and Dominic. The victim was a former student of hers.

Kateena Cirincione said her daughter had not worked at the school since last December and that she knew nothing about Kasea's then-pending criminal case.

But in an email sent to school customers in late June, the owners warned of an upcoming TV news report about the allegations.

They also said no crimes happened at the business in Sacramento, California.

Phantom Spunk Flinger coughs to boob groping

POLICE have collared a man nicknamed 'the Phantom Spunk Flinger' – for his habit of tossing jizz at innocent women.

The 25-year-old male suspect, identified by his initials SN, was arrested at his home.

Cops initially charged him with public indecency – which is punishable by up to two years and eight months in prison – for the semen flinging.

During questioning, the perv also confessed to groping unsuspecting women's breasts in public before driving away on his motorcycle.

Officers said that the confession matches recent complaints by citizens who had been bothered by a spate of gropings in Tasikmalaya, West Java.

Police said the man may also be charged over a porn-related crime.

'Killer posed as victim for weeks online'

A MARRIED man accused of killing his mistress and dumping her body masqueraded as her online for weeks after she disappeared, police claim.

John Chapman (above), 39, has been charged over the disappearance of his 33-year-old girlfriend Jaime Feden, who was last seen in September.

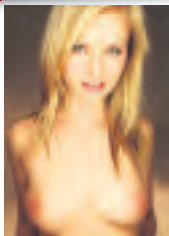

Chapman allegedly admitted to police that he drove Feden from Pittsburgh to Las Vegas on September 25 'for a holiday'.

Cops say he confessed to tying her hands and feet to a signpost in the desert then suffocating her by duct-taping her nose and mouth.

For the next two months, Chapman is accused of pretending to be his girlfriend by messaging her family and friends from her social media accounts.

Chapman is charged with kidnapping and obstructing justice while cops try to ID a body found in the desert.

'It was like a butcher's shop human meat'

WHEN residents began complaining of a foul stench wafting through their Cleveland neighbourhood, they blamed it on a nearby sausage shop. But the aroma of decay wasn't coming from the butcher's - it was emanating from a sickening house of death full of rotting corpses...

HOUSE OF HORRORS: Sowell's body-filled property

WHEN police arrived at the home of Anthony Sowell on October 29, 2009, they could not have been prepared for what they would encounter.

They had driven to the large, white-fronted detached home after a woman complained that Sowell had assaulted and raped her after inviting her for drinks.

Sowell, a decorated former Marine, wasn't there at the time.

But lying on the floor of the living room inside 12205 Imperial

By JAYNE FERGUSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Avenue, in the Mount Pleasant neighbourhood of Cleveland, Ohio, they found the decaying bodies of two women.

And worse was to come. Much worse.

A human skull sat in a bucket.

The bodies of four other women were found in a shallow grave in the basement and crawlspaces throughout the home.

And after digging in the back yard, investigators found the remains of four more rotting corpses.

That brought the body count to 11 - murders conducted and grimly concealed over the course of the previous two years.

It earned Sowell the ominous nickname 'The Cleveland Strangler'.

Rape

Despite initially pleading his innocence in court, Sowell was eventually sentenced to death in August 2011 following a court case that rocked America.

Having been convicted of 83 counts of murder, rape and kidnapping, Sowell told the jury: "The only thing I want to say is I'm sorry. I know that might not sound like much, but I truly am sorry from the bottom of my heart."

The fact is, though, that no-one really knows why Sowell committed such acts of atrocity - or why he chose to share his house with the corpses of those he killed.

He came from a disturbed home and had a difficult childhood that left permanent mental scars.

Sowell was raised by his mum, Claudia Garrison, and his gran, Irene Justice. He never knew his dad, Thomas.

He was deeply traumatised after he witnessed two female cousins being stripped and badly beaten by an 'unnamed adult'.

But, despite all this, friends who knew him say he was a good kid.

Katie Tabb, who grew up on the same street as Sowell, says: "He was the kindest child you wanted to deal with, always very respectable."

There was a shift in behaviour when Sowell started high school. He was teased and ribbed because he didn't have a car or a girlfriend.

Fears about sexual inadequacy started to become ingrained deep in his psyche.

Sowell was no virgin, however. One of his cousins, Leona Davis, claims Sowell took her upstairs in the family home and forced her to have sex with him.

She says the abuse went on for years and complained to police, but no-one believed her.

She now claims: "I don't think the Imperial Avenue killings would have ever happened if somebody had listened to me."

Aged 19, Sowell joined the military - despite the fact he'd got a high school student pregnant with his daughter.

Booze

At a combat camp in North Carolina, Sowell learned the essentials of killing, taking part in hand-to-hand combat drills while learning choke techniques and how to harness 'basic weapons of opportunity'.

In 1981, aged 22, Sowell married fellow marine Kim Lawson, only for the relationship to end in divorce just four years later.

In that same year, Sgt Sowell left army service, with superiors patting him on the back as he departed.

He had been handed a rifle sharpshooter award, good conduct medal, a certificate of commendation and two letters of appreciation.

But behind all of those commendations, Sowell was hiding an addiction to booze - the real reason for the ending of his brief marriage.

When Sowell returned to Cleveland, his life unravelled. His alcohol dependency had been overtaken by addiction to crack cocaine.

In 1988, Sowell was thrown in jail for eight days over a domestic violence charge.

It was also around this time that bodies began appearing on the streets of Cleveland.

And, while none of those cases has been solved to this day, all free man, aged 45, and a registered sex offender.

Almost immediately he went back to his wicked ways, preying on vulnerable women in his neighbourhood.

He found work at a rubber factory and moved in with his new love, Lori Frazier, supplementing his income by selling scrap metal.

Then, in June 2007, Sowell claimed his first murder victim – Crystal Dozier, 38.

This was also the time that councillor Zack Reed first started getting complaints about a strong smell of 'decaying flesh' coming from the area near Sowell's home.

Choked

As more and more women started going missing, the stench intensified.

The finger of blame was first pointed at Ray's Sausage Shop, located just down the street from Sowell's house.

The complaints got so bad that the owners of the store spent £20,000 on a new drainage and filtration system.

But the smell persisted – and so did the missing persons. Along with Crystal, cops were investigating the disappearances of Tishana Culver, 31, Leshanda Long, 25, Michelle Mason, 45, Tonia Carmichael, 53, Nancy Cobbs, 43, Amelda Hunter, 47, Telacia Fortson, 31, Janice Webb, 49, Kim Yvette Smith, 44, and Diane Turner, 38.

They were all eventually found on Sowell's property, choked to death and raped.

Some had been decomposing for as long as two years.

A murder probe began in October 2009.

On entering Sowell's property, the two cadavers in the living room were immediately spotted.

Detective Lem Griffin said: "There was also a mound of dirt on the floor behind the stairwell, which was unusual.

"I went down there and looked at it. There was a third body underneath.

"In a red bucket we found a skull.

"Everywhere you went, you stepped on rat faeces. Flies were hanging from the ceiling. And that stench...

"He was living there, cooking his food there in a makeshift kitchen.

"We found a body in the back, two or three feet away from another body.

"We found another body in the crawlspace, covered in dirt.

"We looked throughout the house – we just kept finding them.

"It was like a butcher's shop full of human meat."

The man who led the investigation, Cleveland Police Detective Melvin Smith, said: "This was a man possessed with two evils. He raped them and killed them – 11 of them.

"It's one of the worst cases in American history."

On August 12, 2011, Sowell was sentenced to death.

Judge Dick Ambrose told him: "Even though you said you were sorry, sorry from the bottom of your heart, you failed to take responsibility for your crimes by adding, 'I don't know what happened, I can't explain it'.

Pain

"If you did feel bad, I would have some hope for you. Not for your physical wellbeing here on earth, because that's been decided in court, but for your eternal wellbeing."

Donnita Carmichael, daughter of victim Tonia Carmichael, said: "A lethal injection is too nice. You should be made to look at those women's faces every day as a reminder of the lives you took and the pain you caused.

"You thought they were worthless, that no-one cared about them. You were wrong."

BLACK DEATH RAMPANT IN RABBITS

DEAD AND BURIED:
Bodies
could end up in pits like this

WE'RE all gonna die – and RABBITS are to blame!

The flop-eared favourites – made famous by the animated favourite Watership Down – are spreading killer death bug BUBONIC PLAGUE. A man who caught and ate a wild rabbit has become the third person to be struck down with the plague in China this month.

The 55-year-old was infected around two weeks ago and Chinese health authorities have since confirmed he is being treated for bubonic plague.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

He lives in the same area as two other plague cases diagnosed this month – the Xilingol League province of Inner Mongolia, China.

Terrified

Officials said 28 contacts of the man who ate the rabbit have been quarantined.

Plague – which wiped out a THIRD of Europe's population during the Middle Ages – originated in China and if the bug is now being spread by rabbits, it's only a matter of time before the corpses start piling up worldwide.

One expert, who was too terrified to give his name, shivered: "Rabbits are the ideal vector for a plague, as they breed like – well – rabbits.

"They are so common and so widespread that plague in the rabbit population will inevitably lead to mass contagion and mass DEATH!"

The infection can be fatal in as many as 90 per cent of cases.

Plague is caused by a bacteria called Yersinia pestis – which is most commonly spread from fleas to small mammals like rats, mice, squirrels and rabbits.

CARY STAYNER: THE YOSEMITE PARK KILLER

#HOT'N'HORNY

DARCY

PLAYBOY babe Kate Darcy says the way to her heart is by having a cosy night in.

Stunning Kate, 24, has flown the flag for the UK at the Playboy mansion in LA – and it's not hard to see why she was picked to become a bunny with her impressive 32DD norks.

However, away from the partying, Hartlepool-born Kate much prefers a romantic night in with a fit fella.

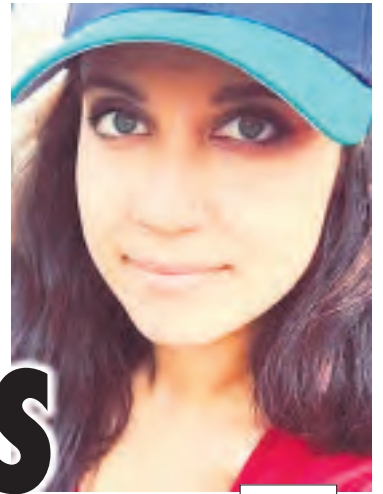

She said: "I've had some pretty wild times over at the Playboy mansion – some of them are probably way too rude to print!"

"But when I'm back home I love to relax with a large glass of red wine and a nice box of chocolates."

Kate added with a smile: "I still love to let loose – and when I do, you'll catch me downing vodka shots and dancing on tables in clubs!"

CHOIR MISS BONKED TEEN 10 TIMES IN CLASS

BANNING ORDER:
Sondheim can't contact victim

One-year jail term for teacher

A MARRIED school teacher has been jailed after she had sex with a pupil in her classroom.

Choir teacher Olivia Sondheim, 28, first had sex with the boy when he was 16.

They had "sexual contact" between five and 10 times, the victim said.

On some occasions the teacher drove him to her home, where he remembered Sondheim and her husband's initials were displayed on a wall in the master bedroom.

Deviancy

He also told detectives some of the times they had sexual contact was in a park and on a field trip.

Sondheim ended the relationship at the end of the school year in 2016, telling the boy she wanted to focus on her marriage. She has since divorced.

By JAYNE FERGUSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

She was also investigated for having sex with another pupil at Lynnwood High School during the summer of 2016, but no charges were filed in regards to the allegations.

Judge Linda Krese sentenced Sondheim, of Everett, Washington state, to a year behind bars.

The judge also placed an order on Sondheim which bans her from contacting the victim or work in a job where she will be around children.

Once she is released from jail, she will be ordered to undergo a sexual deviancy evaluation.

Cop axed over naked dance in club video

A POLICE officer was suspended after he was filmed dancing STARK NAKED in a nightclub.

Officer Cebbron Hackett was suspended without pay for 30 days and ordered to complete remedial training.

He was off-duty and appeared to be "highly intoxicated" when he removed his clothes at Discovery Nightclub in Conway, Arkansas, on October 13, Chief Jody Spradlin wrote in a letter of suspension.

The letter reads: "Your actions have brought discredit and embarrassment upon the Conway Police Department and could have resulted in your arrest for intoxication."

The letter was released under the Arkansas Freedom of Information Act, along with footage from the club showing Hackett dancing to Don't Stop Believin' by Journey.

OBAMA MAIL BOMBER JAILED FOR 10 YEARS

A WOMAN has been jailed for 10 years for sending explosives through the mail to former US President Barack Obama.

Julia Poff pleaded guilty in July to transporting the homemade explosives with intent to kill, injure or intimidate.

She sent packages to ex-President Mr Obama, Texas Governor Greg Abbott and the acting director of the Social Security agency Carolyn Colvin in 2016, all containing booby traps.

Two were intercepted and rendered harmless with no injuries. A device mailed to Abbott was opened by him personally but it did not detonate.

Poff, 47, from Houston, Texas, was caught after the FBI traced tiny amounts of pet hair that were found inside the envelopes and identified them as coming from the woman's gray cat, named Ash.

At her sentencing hearing, Poff (left) began reciting Bible verses and describing how many people her family has helped in her local area.

Investigators say she admitted she did not like the former President, while she is believed to have sent explosives to Colvin and Abbott because of the way the state dealt with her child support case.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

I'm a 32-year-old woman with a bit of a problem. I have taken to going out late at night and flashing my knickers to lorry drivers.

I get so turned on by yanking up my skirt and revealing my panties as they go by. Some flash their lights and honk their horns but others stop to have some fun.

In the past three months I have been with about 20 lorry drivers in their cabs. I just can't stop doing it and some of the lorry drivers now know me quite well.

They'll actually do a detour for a handjob, blowjob or even full sex with me over my car bonnet or in their lorry cab. It's always safe sex with a condom but I'm so addicted to the thrill I'm doing things I'd never imagined.

For instance, last night I went out in just stockings, suspenders, and a coat and was serviced by three truckers at the same time.

The first one had me over the bonnet with his cock right up my arse, while another was sat on the bonnet with his cock in my mouth and the third had got down on his knees to lap and finger my pussy.

I had the most amazing climaxes. They took turns exploding in my arse, pussy and mouth. When I got home I was dripping in cum.

My boyfriend works away quite a bit, so these are the times I go out. But if he found out he'd be mortified.

I'm also worried the police will catch me one day – and if they do my world will fall apart.

What should I do?

LT, Kent

Sam says...

WHY not try a local dogging hot-spot. Better still, try and introduce your fella – slowly – to the scene.

Dear Sam,

MY missus loves me to f**k her in the face – but my nads often give her black eyes as I'm pumping hard and fast in her mouth.

Every time she wants a mouthful these days I think the f**king social services are going to be round about wife-battering.

I know most fellas like the idea of putting one in the mouth, but to be honest I'd rather have her up the usual route.

What can I do?

NP, Liverpool

Sam says...

EVER heard of those knitted nut protectors or welding goggles?

My girlfriend wants me to shag her pal

Dear Sam,

MY girlfriend has told me she wants me to shag her best mate on this girl's birthday while she watches. Her mate is well fit, with long blonde hair, massive jugs and a fine figure.

The idea does turn me on and my bird has been dirty in bed recently as she says the idea of watching me shag her mate gets her going big time.

Just last night I shagged her up the arse for the first time ever. She moaned with pleasure as I slowly slid my eight-inch up her tight little bumhole.

It was brilliant as I watched my cock sliding in and out. I pulled just as I was about to come and she sucked me off.

But I'm uneasy about shagging her mate and I think it could ruin our relationship.

What do you think?

HR, Peterborough

Sam says...

YOU are right to feel uneasy about this. If you go through with it, you WILL damage your relationship – but you will probably have a lot of fun!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Bi babes tease punters, then tease my todger!

Dear Sam,

I REALLY must be the luckiest bloke in the world as I'm shagging not one but TWO gorgeous bisexual pals – at the same time

They're both 21, at university and they like nothing more than a hot threeway session with me.

I'm 26 and I met the girls when they came into the pub I manage looking for work as barmaids.

There was only one vacancy but I took them both on as I thought a couple of great looking girls would pull in the punters.

Wink

Ours is a fun pub so I asked them to dress as college girls when they were on duty and they agreed with a wink and a giggle as they felt up each other's bums.

They are stunnas and the customers loved them when they saw them in their tiny mini-skirts, white open-neck shirts and uplift bras.

They also loved the fact that the girls were constantly flirting with one another and making saucy comments about what they'd be doing to each other when they got home.

I took them both out for a meal a few weeks after they started work, and during the meal the talk was so flirty and dirty I had to sit with a hard-on throughout it.

They share a house with two other lezzer girls and after we'd finished they invited me back there.

I still didn't think they had any inclination towards shagging men but to my surprise no sooner had we got indoors than they were all over me, feeling my rock hard knob through my trousers.

As they slipped their fingers into my flies I damn nearly shot my load there and then right there in the hallway.

Then we all scurried up to their bedroom, stripped off and dived on one of the beds.

First, one of them went down on me while her mate squatted over my face so that I could give her fanny a good licking out.

Then they swapped over and I was in my element as these two stunnas took it in turns to suck me off as they probed each other's slippery slits with their agile fingers.

But the best was still to come because one of them asked me if I had ever had anal sex.

When I said I hadn't, she giggled and got on all fours while her pal lubed her up and guided my erect todger into her tighter hole.

Thrust

I began to thrust and she was squealing with delight.

Her girlfriend was happy too as she lay beside us fiddling with her hard little clit.

The session lasted four hours and we all climaxed several times.

Am I sorted, or what?

CD, south London

Sam says...

THIS is the stuff of dreams – be sure to keep us posted.

Lesbos in threeway with randy male boss

Dear Sam,

ALTHOUGH I am a lesbian, and I have had a lovely girlfriend for four years, I recently cheated on her with my male boss.

We were the only ones in the office one night, he came on to me and I fancied it.

I got straight down to the bulge in his trousers.

His cock was huge and tasted better than other cocks I'd sucked before. He was the first man I'd had sex with in six years.

He pleased me like never before and I did not hesitate in gobbling down his love-juice.

My boss knows my situation and suggested a threesome with my girlfriend – and to my surprise she jumped at the chance.

He came round with some champagne and we all headed upstairs for a shower. I let him screw me from behind in the shower while my girlfriend soaped my tits.

Then he banged her doggy-style on the bed as I sucked his balls from below.

He then said he wanted to tie us both to the bed and f**k us up the arse. We agreed and he tied us with my stockings and then pounded our arses.

My girlfriend says that was a one-off but I want to do it again. How do I persuade her?

DC, Cheshire

Sam says...

Keep plugging away. Sound like she won't take much persuading.

Dear Sam,

THE youngest brother of my hubby has turned out to be a right stud.

When we married he was a teenager but now he's in his mid-20s and he's absolutely gorgeous.

Last week I put on my sexiest undies and let my brother-in-law glimpse up my skirt when he came round to do some odd jobs on the house.

Todger

The next thing is, I catch him banging one off in the toilet and I tell him: "You don't have to do that."

I got hold of his massive todger and guided it straight into my soaking wet hole and we were off.

Five sweaty minutes later we were both wearing large smiles.

Before we left I sucked him off and swallowed his spunk.

I'm thinking of trying the middle brother next. What do you reckon?

GT, North Yorks

Sam says...

YOU'RE playing with fire and you're going to get burned.

I HAVE a real thing for being spanked and dominated... I love the idea of being a naughty sex slave!

I call him master and I'm totally at his beck and call.

I'm on all fours wearing a barely there leather outfit that shows off my curves. He's stood over me and I look up at him, all submissive.

To get warmed up, he spansks my bum. I moan and he spansks me again.

He starts to pull my hair back while he kisses me. He's totally in control.

He progresses to biting my nipples. I squeal. He calls me a naughty slut. I'm not allowed to touch, I must only do as he says.

He gives me a little slap across the face, then slaps my cheeks with his hard cock.

After teasing me, he finally lets me play with it in my mouth and orders me to suck it hard. I eagerly follow orders.

If I don't do exactly as he says, I get a light flogging.

There is something very raw about being treated as a slave. It's sensual and liberating. When you surrender control, in a way you're saying, "I'm no longer responsible for how kinky this gets!"

ELLA McPARTLAND

SHELF stacker James Davies spends his days staring at supermarket aisles but he begged us for a photo of Ella McPartland's top shelf.

James, 45, from Newport, works in his local supermarket filling up the empty shelves but he wants to stare at 29-year-old Liverpool stunna Ella's chest instead.

He said: "I love my job and I enjoy keeping the aisles full and replenished, but I love staring at Ella even more."

"She's got a lovely pair of 32Ds and that's a shelf I wouldn't mind filling up - it beats the tuna cans hands down!"

CLAUDIA KOCIS

JOINER Harry Ratcliffe wrote in asking for a photo of his fave glamour girl Claudia Kocis.

Harry, 32, from Clacton-on-Sea, Essex, reckons 29-year-old Fulham babe Claudia would be putty in his hands once he'd used his chat-up line.

He said: "Claudia is gorgeous - she's got everything. And those 36D boobs are something else... they're extraordinary."

"I reckon I could pull her if I give her my one-liner. I'd say: 'I'm good at nailing things, how about I nail you?'"

ENGLAND 9/2 FOR EURO WIN

ENGLAND have won their last three games by an aggregate score of 17-0 after their 4-0 win in Pristina against Kosovo on Sunday but they remain 9/2 with BetVictor that Euro 2020 will finally end what will be 54 years of hurt in major football tournaments since the World Cup win of 1966.

Ireland, Northern Ireland and Scotland will be in Friday's draw for the play-offs with 16 nations competing for the final four spots next March. Ireland are 300/1 to lift the Trophy at Wembley in July, Northern Ireland 500/1 and Scotland 750/1 for Euro 2020 glory.

The hope is that Wales – 125/1 at BetVictor for next year's finals – will have made it through automatically from last night's must-win game against Hungary.

England meet New Zealand in the 1st Test in Mount Maunganui this evening the first in a two-Test series.

The hosts will be looking for revenge following their Super Over losses in both the World Cup ODI Final at Lords in the summer and the fifth and decisive T20I between the sides in Auckland earlier in the month.

The Black Caps welcome back skipper Kane Williamson – the third best batsman in the world behind Steve Smith and Virat Kohli – following his hip injury.

New Zealand are likely to start with their regular three-pronged pace attack of Trent Boult, Tim Southee and Neil Wagner but Lockie Ferguson will gain his first cap at some stage with the NZ board suggesting they will rotate their quicks – as Australia did in the Ashes – against England and Australia.

Patient

England – third in the Test rankings – looked to be coming to the boil nicely in their recent three-day game with a New Zealand XI with Buttler scoring only his second first-class century since June 2015.

The Black Caps have been well supported with BetVictor and are now 11/10 (from 6/5) with the Tourists 7/5 (from 13/10) and the draw at 9/2. If Sibley survives the first half-hour on his Test debut you will find a Chris Tavare-type opener rather than a Jason Roy and skipper Joe Root has hinted that his England side must have to bat longer and be more patient than has often been the case in recent years.

England have only won one Test Series in New Zealand this century but they have Jofra Archer in 2019 and his raw pace is the X-Factor that might be the difference. Neil Wagner is likely to subject England to a barrage of short-pitched bowling but he is no Archer. Archer is 9/4 to be the top England bowler in the series and I think Williamson could be overpriced at 9/2 to be the top Series batsman.

I like the balance of this current England side and the tip must be England at 21/20 with BetVictor in their draw no bet market for the opening Test. There is little rain forecast for Tauranga but the Kookaburra ball is unlikely to do much after the first 30/40 overs with little in the way of swing conventional or reverse.

Pep not Bayern Munich rumour

GUARDIOLA WON'T WALK OUT ON CITY SAYS AGENT

PEP Guardiola will NOT head back to Bayern Munich says his agent.

Big rumours have been sweeping Germany that the Manchester City boss will return to Bavaria at the end of this season.

Bayern are looking for a new gaffer after showing Niko Kovac the door.

Reports in Munich suggest that Guardiola would like a second go at the club he managed before heading to the Etihad.

The Spaniard has not looked happy this season and was visibly angry on the touchline as Liverpool beat his team 3-1 at Anfield before the international break. That has prompted his agent to put a lid on the rumours.

Guardiola is due to leave City at the end of NEXT season and that's still the plan according to Josep Maria Orozbig.

He said: "Pep is satisfied and very happy as Manchester City."

"His contract runs until June 2021.

"I have spoken to nobody in Germany about him – neither with agents or club bosses. Pep has good memories of Munich and still has friends there.

"But he has never shown any interest in returning to Germany as a coach. This is a thing that would be just as impossible at the present time as last summer with Juventus.

"Guardiola always fulfils his contracts. I deny all rumours!"

City have a must-win game against the Blues at 5.30 they could be 12 points behind leaders Liverpool who play Crystal Palace at 3pm.

By the time they kick off against the Blues at 5.30 they could be 12 points behind leaders Liverpool who play Crystal Palace at 3pm.

Former Chelsea star Eden Hazard is backing his old mates to pull off a surprise win at the Etihad.

That's despite the Bridge Boys copping a 6-0 beating the last time they took on the champions.

Hazard said: "It's not going to be easy. It's hard to play there."

"Last time we played them we lost 6-0, so bad memories for me and for Chelsea as well."

"But I think this season they are really good. They are really young, but they are really good, so why not go there and win the game?"

"When I watch them, no Hazard but it's a party! They score a lot of goals, the fans are happy, they are third in the league, so it's going to be a great season."

"They just need to stay there, win games and that's it."

WE CAN WIN EURO GLORY

MARCUS Rashford believes England have enough firepower to win their first trophy since 1966.

The Manchester United hitman is one of many goal threats boss Gareth Southgate can call upon. He has the likes of Harry Kane, Raheem Sterling, Jadon Sancho and Tammy Abraham who can all pose a big threat up front.

Then there are attacking midfielders like Alex Oxlade-Chamberlain who is more than capable of smashing one in from 25 yards.

It has added up to a potent combination in qualifying as England have scored a whopping 37 goals from just eight matches.

The Three Lions are in pot one for next summer's finals and will play their group games on home soil.

Rashford believes England have what it takes to produce their qualifying form on the biggest stage.

He said: "I think all of these games are just gearing you up for the summer and if we go into the summer anywhere near the sort of form we have been in recently then it will be a successful tournament."

"We have got a couple more games leading up to the summer and take them to improve as a team and just sharpen up now for the tournament.

By JOHN ANTHONY

"We want to go and give it our best shot at winning."

Rashford thinks the strength in depth Southgate can call on is a major asset.

While he, Kane and Sterling are clearly first choice, there is plenty of quality on the bench too.

Rashford said: "I think it is obviously a good combination but we have played games without that particular front three and it is frightening what we can do as a group of attackers."

"You have to use it to your advantage and maybe it isn't working in one game for that three and someone has to come in and make the difference — we have to use that to our advantage, 100%."

Advantage

Although there are plenty of young players in the squad, most of them have tournament experience and that could be another important factor at the Euros.

Rashford added: "I have been in two tournaments and the squad is so important and, with the qualities that every individual has in this team, it is something we have to use to our advantage."

"It is good competition, we really do have that kind of environment when we are in the camp together and it is positive."

"I feel like I have experienced a lot in the game. Hopefully there are more big occasions. While I am still young I have experience in big, big games that people of my age don't usually experience."

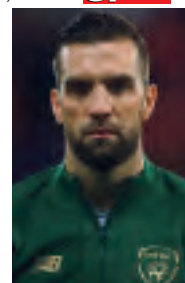

"I have to use that to my advantage and try and help the team, at the same time it is about winning games. That is what we went to Kosovo to do and I'm looking forward to the tournament now."

FIRED UP: Shane Duffy

Duffy: We can still make it to Euros

SHANE Duffy is adamant Ireland can make the Euro 2020 finals through the play-offs.

The Brighton stopper skipped the boys in green to an agonising draw against Denmark.

Victory would have secured an automatic place in next summer's final — with their group games to be played in Dublin.

But now they have to enter the lottery of the play-offs. It looks as though they will be paired with either Slovakia or Wales in the showdown.

Ireland dominated the Danes but were hit by a sucker punch before bagging an equaliser in the dying minutes.

But time ran out before they could get the winner.

Duffy said: "On another night, we could have got one and it's disappointing to take. It wasn't for the lack of effort, as always, from us."

"But I'm trying to stay positive. We're still in it, we're not out and we've got to do it the hard way, like we always do."

Mistakes

Goals have been hard to come by for Mick McCarthy's team with just seven goals in qualifying.

Duffy believes they can put that right in the play-offs which take place in March.

He added: "It's difficult, but that's football. If you make mistakes at the highest level you get punished and that's sort of what happened to us."

"We try to play like that every game, to be honest, but it's easier said than done."

"We've just got to keep everyone fit until March and playing well at club level."

"But that's the benchmark, we have got to stay at that level now, energy, even passing the ball, playing, if it's not on, we come back out, the simple basics which we've worked on."

"I thought we pressed them quite well and they didn't get their game going, really, and that's the benchmark."

"Whoever we get in March, we've got to do that again."

Duffy was delighted to skipper his country.

He said: "My family were very proud. I'd swap it all for a win, but it was obviously a special night."

"It's something I'll always be proud to say to my kids."

ARCHER CAN FIRE BIG ARROWS

JOFRA Archer can fire England to Test victory in New Zealand says Dom Sibley.

The new England opener is confident the seamer will have too much pace for the home batsmen.

A new-look Three Lions is taking on the Kiwis using the dreaded Kookaburra ball.

Unlike the Dukes used in England, it doesn't really swing and is much harder to reverse.

But it whistles through the air like any other ball and Sibley thinks Archer is the ideal man to get the New Zealanders hopping around the crease. He said: "He's got a special talent, it looks effortless. He gets that steep bounce because he releases it from such a high point."

CRICKET

"Most sports, whether it's rugby, football or cricket, having someone who's quick, it sort of scares people at certain times. Having that pace, it gives batsmen something different to think about."

"It's massive to have for us in the middle overs, when things can be quiet, for sure."

Sibley is expected to make his debut and admits training is more intense than he's used to at Warwickshire.

Archer rapped Ben Stokes on the hand during a net session, sparking fears that the all-rounder would miss the game.

The Durham man appears to be fit and Sibley insists there's no bad blood between the pair.

He said: "They played at Rajasthan Royals in the Indian Premier League together and know each other pretty well. It gets competitive in the nets but I'm sure it's all in good spirits."

Sibley topped the country runscoring list and is hopeful of repeating form on the biggest stage.

He said: "I haven't been told just yet that I'm playing so I'll have to see at training. I had a good net just now and am excited to get going."

"I'll try to do exactly the same as what I've done this season in county cricket. I'll try to get through the new ball, soak up as many balls as I can and score big hundreds."

Hart Lane three years later. He was a key man for boss Mauricio Pochettino for a couple of seasons but has fallen out of favour.

He almost moved to Bruges in August for a cut-price £13m only for the deal to fall apart at the last minute.

Celtic boss Neil Lennon is looking for a holding midfielder and Wanyama is thought to be keen on the move.

The Premiership champs are unlikely to stump up a fee but would jump at the chance of a loan deal until the end of the season as they bid to fight off Rangers.
